CASCADE PARK GETS POTTERS' ANNUAL PICNIC

Fifth Reunion Will be Held at New Castle, Penna.

JUNE 15 DATE

Heretofore Outings Have Been Held in Canton.

Fifth annual reunion of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters will be held at Cascade Park, New Castle, Pa., on Saturday, June 15, it was announced today.

Offer of the management of the New Castle resort was accepted by the picnic committee over proposals presented by Myers Lake park, Canton; Rock Springs park, Chester; Kennyswood park, Pittsburgh, and Idora park, Youngstown.

Heretofore, outings under auspices of the parental union have been held at Myers Lake. Requests for a change in the choice of picnic grounds had been filed with the picnic committee.

Cascade park is 45 miles from East Liverpool by automobile via Beaver, Beaver Falls and Wampum. Canton is approximately 52 miles from here. At least one excursion train, starting from East Liverpool, will be operated. Most of the picnickers will make the trip to the park by automobile.

Today

An Educational War.
The President's Power.
Strikes Against Progress.
A Normal Spine.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE little war in Mexico may help this country to realize the importance of modern war methods.

Will this government protect itself with airplane carriers, with a fighting air fleet, twice as great as any in the world, and submarines?

Or will the government wait to react concerning the bombing of one of our big cities: "City Bombed, 40,000 Killed, Population Flees from City?"

FORTUNATELY, Herbert Hoover is an engineer accustomed all his life to deal with machinery, and demanding the newest type of machine.

It is not necessary to tell him that men and cities on the ground are helpless against attack from the air, unless they are DEFENDED IN THE AIR.

MR. OULAHEN, who reports Washington and the government, says Hoover's determination to exercise executive authority reminds him of Roosevelt.

So much the better. The president has authority, more than any ruler in the world, now that China and Russia have no emperors and Turkey no sultan.

The people elected Herbert Hoover because they believed that he knew how to use the presidential power, and they hope he will use it constantly.

NEARLY 100 telegraph operators employed by a firm of stock brokers have struck because the firm is installing printing machines to replace human operators.

That is a mistake, and is as useless as the strike of musicians against picture films that supply their own music.

MEN that fight against improvement in machinery fight hopelessly because they fight against progress.

It was useless for stage coach drivers to throw stones at locomotives.

Men suddenly deprived of work are entitled to all sympathy. But no strike against progress ever was or ever will be won.

THIS is "Normal Spine Week," osteopaths tell you, and those interested in human welfare, old-fashioned doctors especially, should pay attention.

The spine is as important to the body as are columns supporting the roof to a temple.

THE American Osteopathic society renders public service in making people think about the backbone.

Consider that long string of nicely adjusted little bones, of which the topmost, highly developed, is the skull. Running down from the brain, sending out on both sides nerves that feed energy to the body, carrying back warnings to the brain, the spine

Mrs. Maude S. Logan.

GENERAL LYON POST HONORS VETERAN'S KIN

Mrs. Maude S. Logan
Only Woman in Ohio
G. A. R.

HAS NO VOTE

Accepts Secretaryship
When Health of Officer Fails.

Mrs. Maude S. Logan, secretary-treasurer of General Lyon post, No. 44, is perhaps the only woman officer in the Ohio Grand Army of the Republic.

Mrs. Logan, a daughter of the late James C. Nicholls, Civil war veteran, who died about two years ago, has been active in the Ladies of the G. A. R. for many years. She is a past state president of the organization and has been secretary of McCoy circle, No. 33, of this city for more than 14 years.

Four years ago Mrs. Logan took charge of the books of the local G. A. R. post, at request of the members. She succeeded the late Jacob Shenkel who had asked to be relieved of the work because of failing health.

As secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Logan has charge of records and finances of the post, membership of which has dwindled to 16. She is a regular attendant at post meetings, which are held semi-monthly. She has no voting power.

Her father was among the first enrolled in the G. A. R. He was a member of the drum and fife corps for many years. The late W. H. Surles, former postmaster, played the bass drum, J. W. (Doc) Howard, the snare drum and Mr. Nicholls the fife.

KIWANIS WILL HEAR C. V. HUGHES

C. V. Hughes, business manager of The Review, will discuss "The Making of a Newspaper" at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel tomorrow.

Kiwanians have been invited to attend an inter-city meeting which will be held at Alliance tomorrow night at which Fred Parker, international secretary, of Chicago, and Roy Fulkerson of the Kiwanis magazine will be speakers.

RADIO SINGERS AT PRAYER MEET

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lacy, Cleveland radio entertainers, will assist in the mid-week prayer meeting at the Church of the Nazarene, St. Clair avenue, tonight. Negro spirituals and other melodies will be sung.

Lacy, who is visiting with relatives here today, was a member of a quintet which sang at the Carnegie Music hall, Pittsburgh, last week.

$20,000 Damages Are Asked In Salineville Sled Crash

Kenneth McPeck Sues Valley Bougher, Motorist.

LISBON, O., Mar. 20.—A $20,000 damage suit was filed in common pleas court today by Kenneth McPeck, a minor, against Valley Bougher, a motorist, as an aftermath of a coasting accident on the night of last Jan. 22 in Salineville.

LOUIS PORTER IS SILENT ON MERGER PLANS

Pottery Combine Chief Arrives Here for Conferences.

DEAL IS CLOSED

No Ware Produced by Corporation, He Admits.

Louis Porter, Chicago furniture store owner, and promoter of the American Chinaware corporation, was silent today upon plans for the merger of 20 or more eastern Ohio potteries.

Porter arrived here yesterday for conference with East Liverpool manufacturers whose plants are in the combine.

"There is nothing to give out at this time other than to say that the merger is practically completed," Porter said. "Production under the merger has not been started but will shortly. We hope to have a statement for publication within the next few days."

Porter declined to make public the list of plants to be included in the merger.

He came to East Liverpool from Cleveland where meetings with manufacturers were held last week. He conferred yesterday with H. J. Taylor, of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, and with Paul Robinson of the Smith & Phillips China company. The National China company of Salineville is a recent addition to the merger list.

W. BLAIR STEELE TO FACE COURT

W. Blair Steele, Wellsville chiropractor, will be arraigned before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today upon two charges, one for practicing without a license and the other for announcing himself as a practitioner, in violation of Section 12694 of the state code of Ohio.

Information against Steele was filed by Frank Dorsey, West Philadelphia, representative of the state medical board.

ROAD PICTURES DISPLAYED HERE

A group of 21 photographs of Columbus county roads, furnished by L. H. Johnson, clerk of the commissioners, were displayed today in the show window of the Ogilvie annex, Washington street, through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce.

Views of completed roads and scenes before and during the improvement are shown. The photographs were taken and colored by Johnson.

The exhibit will be here for one week.

WILLIAM MARTIN IS FINED $50

William Martin was fined $50 and committed to the county jail at Lisbon by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today upon a charge of intoxication. Martin was arrested last night along the Y. & O. railroad, near the city limits, by Patrolman Shenkel.

Harry Byland, charged with a parking violation in the Diamond last night, forfeited a $2 bond when he failed to appear before Judge Hanley for a hearing.

SQUIRES TO HEAR CERAMIC ADDRESS

James B. O'Hanlon, of the Adamant Porcelain company, will speak on "The Electric Porcelain Division of the Ceramic Industry" at a meeting of Carroll circle, No. 23, Columbian squares, in the Knights of Columbus lodge rooms in the Ingram building, Diamond, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

CHICAGOAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF

CHICAGO, March 20.—(INS)—George Young, 21, shot and killed his wife, Valerius, 30, then killed himself in their home here today. Police expressed the opinion that Young had suddenly become demented.

SOUTH STRICKEN BY TORNADO, NOW BY FLOOD

Following closely on the trail of a tornado in South Carolina, reports of many details from the flooded towns of Alabama tell of the widespread suffering of the inhabitants of these sections. Top shows all that is left of a happy home in Liberty, S. C., in which all of the family of five were killed when the tornado tore through the town. This 150-foot house, below, was lifted bodily by the wind and set down 20 feet from its foundations practically unharmed.

Marshal Foch Dies In His Paris Home

Generalissimo of Allied Armies at End of World War Succumbs After Long Illness.

PARIS, March 20.—(INS)—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, 77, one of the greatest soldiers of modern times and generalissimo of the allied armies in the field at the end of the great war, died this afternoon after a long illness. He suffered from heart and kidney trouble aggravated by a recent attack of gripe and general physical debility. Nine doctors have been attending the marshal from time to time since his condition became serious several months ago.

Family at Bedside.

Marshal Foch died at 5:55 o'clock this afternoon. Members of his family were at the bedside.

It had been evident for the last 48 hours that he could not recover. His strength waned rapidly although he seemed to rally briefly last night. The soldier had always lived simply, his meals were of the lightest. He never drank liquor.

The death of Marshal Foch removed one of the outstanding figures developed by the great war. Victory over the Germans in the last year of the conflict was attributed solely to his military genius. He was ever a quiet, simple mannered man of retiring disposition, shunning public attention. It was this shyness which made many misjudge his military qualifications.

TWO DEAD, THREE BURNED IN BLAST

CHESTER, Pa., Mar. 20.—A second death was added today to the victims of the fire at Marcus Hook, caused by an explosion at the Sun Oil company's plant. James McAbee, of Marcus Hook, was killed instantly and Joseph Bennett died a few hours later in the local hospital.

Three other employees are still in the hospital in a serious condition of burns.

The flames raged for more than seven hours before they were brought under control by the combined efforts of firemen from six nearby cities. The loss will amount to a half million dollars.

MISSING BYRD EXPLORERS FOUND

NEW YORK, March 20.—(INS)—Larry Gould, Bert Balchen and Harold Gurnee, the three members of the Byrd expedition who have been missing since last Thursday in the Rockefeller mountains in Antarctica, have been found according to a radio dispatch from Little America, copyrighted by the New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Commander Byrd, who flew to their rescue, reported that the plane had been destroyed by severe winds while on the ground.

HUDSON MOTOR PRESIDENT DIES

DETROIT, March 20.—(INS)—R. B. Jackson, president and one of the founders of the Hudson Motor company, died at midnight last night in Mentone, France, according to a cable received here today.

SHERIFF BANS PETTING PARTIES

Roadside petting parties are banned in Columbiana county, Sheriff William J. Barlow, Lisbon, warned today.

Deputies have been ordered to arrest owners of automobiles which are parked along roads without displaying lights. The few warm days during the last two weeks have brought complaints of petting parties.

"This is a violation of the law," the sheriff says. "I won't stand for it during my term of office."

Driving of "one-eyed" automobiles is also under the ban. Cooperation of municipal authorities is asked by the sheriff in his campaign against petting and traffic violators.

FIRE MARSHAL NAMES 13 AIDES

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—Appointment of 13 assistants was announced today by State Fire Marshal Ray R. Gill.

Harry Welch, Steubenville, was placed in charge of the district comprising Jefferson, Guernsey and Harrison counties. Charles Coleman, Martins Ferry, will have charge of the district including Belmont and Monroe counties. Thomas C. Martinec, C. A. Clark, Joseph Farizel and Rufus Small, all of Cleveland, were placed in charge of the work in Cuyahoga and Lorain counties.

W. F. Wise, Medina, is in charge of the district made up of Medina, Summit and Portage counties; George Runkel, Toledo, of Lucas and Wood counties; A. C. McBride, McConnellsville, of Morgan, Noble, Perry and Washington counties; Chester B. Martin and Charles S. Saunders, both of Lancaster, of Delaware, Franklin, Fairfield and Pickaway counties; J. J. Butler, Hillsboro, of Adams, Brown, Clermont, Clinton and Highland counties; and Harry W. Mark, Washington, C. H., of Clark, Green, Madison and Fayette counties.

AUTO SALESMAN BEATEN TO DEATH

TOLEDO, O., Mar. 20.—Gaylord Brown, 39, automobile salesman, was beaten to death with a piece of lead pipe in the hands of John Hojnacki here today when he appeared at the Hojnacki home and clamored for admittance.

Hojnacki, according to police, declared he thought Brown was a crazy man. He is being held by authorities pending an investigation.

Juror Willing to Vote "Yes" Or "No" in Mine Case Verdict

Widow, However, Wins Suit Against State Commission.

LISBON, O., March 20.—"There is something new in court every day," Common Pleas Judge W. Frank Lones said today. "The latest is that the court was informed that one member of a jury would vote for or against a verdict."

E. O. HARRIES AGAIN HEADS CITY TEACHERS

Association President Re-elected at Dinner In Hotel.

EBERHART GUEST

Returned Y. M. C. A. Aide Speaker on European Conditions.

One hundred members of the East Liverpool Teachers' association elected officers for the ensuing year, heard annual reports and were impressed by the plea of A. A. Ebersole, returned Y. M. C. A. secretary from the World war zones, for a more sympathetic viewpoint by Americans of Europeans, after a dinner at the Travelers' hotel last night.

The tables were adorned with yellow tulips and jonquils that were enhanced by lighted candles, be-ribboned at strategic distances. Place-cards reminiscent of St. Patrick's day were at each place. On the west wall two American flags towered over the speakers table.

Edward O. Harries, who was re-elected president of the association, was toastmaster. Other officers named were: First vice president, Miss Maude Baum; second vice president, Miss Ora Dell Hunter; recording secretary, Miss Anna Welch; corresponding secretary, Miss Faunle Fisher; treasurer, Miss Claudia Gill; directors, Miss Ruth Baxter and I. A. Hoffman and H. D. Rist.

The nominating committee report was made by its chairman, Miss Agnes Pfisterer.

MRS. S. W. GUY, AGED 55, DIES

Mrs. Blanche E. Guy, 55, wife of George W. Guy, died from pneumonia yesterday afternoon in her home in the Lincoln highway.

Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, William and Frank, and two daughters, Mrs. Thurman Haag, Columbiana, and Mrs. Della Severs, at home; two brothers, L. V. Fickes, Youngstown, and Robert Fickes, Wellsville, and a sister, Mrs. Etta Elliott, Wellsville.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, in charge of the Rev. Ethel Hoyt, pastor of the Church of God. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

TWO CANADIAN TRAINS CRASH NEAR TORONTO

Relief Crews and Airplanes Rush to Scene.

WIRES ARE DOWN

Fire Follows Head-on Collision at Parry Sound.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 20.—At least five persons were killed and scores of others injured when two crack Canadian national trains, powered by new monster types of locomotives crashed head-on today near Parry sound.

Names of Victims.

The identified dead were: Conductor Barstead, Horace Smith, fireman, Harry McRoberts, baggage man, Brakeman Ferguson, George Miller, newsboy.

The reports received here indicated that the wreck was one of the worst tragedies in railway annals of Canada.

Relief trains and airplanes were being rushed from Toronto to the scene of the crash.

A hospital train carrying the injured, was reported to be speeding here.

Rammed at High Speed.

The plunging cars, smashing into telegraph poles and wrecking communication, hindered the transmission of the wreck details.

The two trains were said to have been traveling at a speed of 60 miles an hour when they rammed into each other. The impact of the giant locomotives, according to the reports, telescoped cars in both trains, hurling them from the tracks.

One of the trains was said to have caught fire.

COOPER SIGNS PENCE REPEALER

COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 20.—Declaring that "this is a real act," Governor Myers V. Cooper today signed the Carpenter act, repealing the Pence act regulating the collection of rates by public utilities. The new law will become operative in 90 days.

The governor also, attached his approving signature to the bill, by Representative Tom W. Jones, Meigs county, providing for erection of a memorial on the statehouse campus to Ohio veterans who served in the World war.

The Carpenter act also provides for the establishment of a bureau of investigation designed to aid the state utilities commission in speeding up its work of disposing of rate cases.

It was understood that, with the approval of the governor, the utilities commission will appoint its executive secretary, Ira E. Sprinkle, Youngstown, as chief of the new bureau of investigation. Sprinkle now receives $3,600 a year. In his new position, he will receive $5,000 annually. A new secretary will be chosen.

HALL FUNERAL IN ZANESVILLE

Funeral services for Prof. Harlan E. Hall, former assistant principal in the East Liverpool high school, who died last Thursday, were held in Zanesville Sunday afternoon.

The services were in charge of the Rev. E. O. Shimer, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. Hall was a member, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Moore, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. The music was in charge of a men's quartet.

The body was placed in a mausoleum in Greenwood cemetery, Zanesville. Local relatives attended the funeral.

LINDBERGH'S SISTER FOUND IN MINNESOTA

Mrs. Eva Christie Lives With Husband, Country Editor.

SHE IS HAPPY

"I Hate Publicity and That Sort of Thing," She Says.

BY MURIEL CHATWORTH,
(International News Service Special Correspondent.)

RED LAKE FALLS, Minn., March 20.—The secret's out. Col. Charles Lindbergh has a sister.

In this little one street town of less than 2,000 souls, tucked away not many miles from the imaginary line that separates Minnesota and North Dakota, Mrs. Eva Lindbergh Christie, half-sister of the famous "Lone Ea-said. "I've just prayed constantly they'd never find out that Charlie is my brother. You see, I hate publicity and all that sort of thing. And I'd really prefer that you wouldn't even mention it now."

Scene from "Children of the Ritz," starring Dorothy Mackall and Jack Mulhall, showing at the American, starting tomorrow.

Gets One Line in Home Paper. "Why, when Charlie flew across the Atlantic and arrived safely in Paris, there was plenty in all the papers. Even the Gazette here carried the story. But do you know how much space they gave to me in that story? Just one line."

"Down at the bottom of the whole thing, after they had told about everything there was to tell about Charlie and his flight, they just had a line reading, 'Lindbergh is a brother of Mrs. Eva Lindbergh Christie of Red Lake Falls, Minn.'"

"I wasn't a bit disappointed, either. I hate to get my name in the papers."

"You see, it's this way," she explained. "My mother was Mary Landford and she died when I was only 5 years old. Then father married again. Charlie was born of that second marriage and is only a half brother of mine."

REV. L. C. ANDRE PREACHES HERE

Free Methodists Hear Former Wellsville Pastor.

"East Liverpool people have every advantage for the obtaining of salvation and the reason they do not acquire it is because they do not want it," asserted the Rev. L. C. Andre, of this city, and formerly a pastor at Wellsville, who substituted in the pulpit for the Rev. S. E. West at the Free Methodist church revival last night. He spoke on the Old Testament inquiry by the prophet, Jeremiah, "Is There No Balm in Gilead?" Three persons went to the altar following the sermon. It was announced that Rev. Mr. West, the pastor, would speak at tonight's services.

"The question which I am using as a text is but one of 1200 queries that are noted in the Bible," said the Rev. Mr. Andre. He described balm as gum from a Palestine tree which was gathered twice each day and which had remarkable curative properties.

"It is one of the oldest remedies known by mankind," he said. "It was costly, effective and found right in the land in which the people of that day lived."

Likens Balm to Salvation. He likened the balm to salvation and averred that spiritual salvation is as costly today as was the balm of that early period.

"Salvation is the only remedy that it known to nullify sin," he indicated. "Before the world was formed God realized that man would sin and made provision for salvation which would rescue man from the sin into which He knew he would fall."

As the balm was costly so is salvation worth something; indeed, it is worth just what Christ paid for it. We are not thought by silver and gold. Christ died for us individually until it is possible for each person to aver: "He died for me."

"We are responsible for His death in that if we reject Him we are lost. Salvation Open to All."

"The balm was costly because it cured; it was known by physicians the world over. It can not be said that salvation is a failure if it works with us. If it does not the fault is our own."

"Salvation takes the point out of one; it cures bad temper; it stops people from talking about their neighbors."

"The longer salvation is tested the better it works. It is at our own hands. If we had to go as far away as India many would not get it."

"We wonder why more do not get it when it is at our very door. It must be that people do not want it. Here in East Liverpool all have every advantage for obtaining it."

"A Psalm of Life," By Henry W. Longfellow, Is America's Favorite Poem, Poll Shows

"House by Side of Road" is Second Choice.

By Frederic J. Haskin,
Director Favorite Poem Poll.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—
"A Psalm of Life," by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, is America's favorite poem.
"The House by the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Foss, is the second choice.
"Thanatopsis," by William Cullen Bryant, is third.
Such is the result of the votes of 61,972 American newspaper readers, sent in from more than two hundred cities scattered in 39 states of the union, in the nation-wide poetry poll.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.
The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.
This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

A PSALM OF LIFE

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
Life is but an empty dream!
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art, to dust returneth,
Was not spoken of the soul.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to act, that each tomorrow
Finds us farther than today.

Art is long, and Time is fleeting,
And our hearts, though stout and brave,
Still, like muffled drums, are beating
Funeral marches to the grave.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of Life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle!
Be a hero in the strife!

Trust no Future, how'er pleasant!
Let the dead Past bury its dead!
Act,—act in the living Present!
Heart within, and God o'erhead!

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time;—

Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

which closed on March 11. My staff has completed the counting of the ballots, a very arduous task, and has determined not only the most popular poems, but the fifty favorites of the newspaper readers of America, recorded in order.
The total vote for A Psalm of Life was 2625. The second choice received 2263 votes, and the third choice 1950. Only ten poems received as many as 1000 votes each, and the fifth choice had 82 votes. Below this came scores and scores of poems, all the way down to uncounted hundreds or thousands for which a single vote was cast.

Vote on Seven Other Poems.

Following the first three, the next seven poems, in the order of their popularity in America, are:
Fourth—"Crossing the Bar," by Alfred Tennyson.
Fifth—"Trees," by Joyce Kilmer.
Sixth—"Evangeline," by Longfellow.

William Cullen Bryant's "Thanatopsis" Wins Third Honors.

Seventh—"Elegy, Written in a Country Churchyard," by Thomas Gray.
Eighth—"Snowbound," by Greenleaf Whittier.
Ninth—"If," by Rudyard Kipling.
Tenth—"Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud," by William Knox.

As I was able to announce while still counting the ballots in this national poll, the people of this country love the old poets best, and of these there is no doubt that Longfellow is the popular favorite. Not only were two of his poems ranked first and sixth by popular vote, but among the second ten there are four more poems by the great poet of New England, and he has a total of ten among the first fifty.

Eight Poets of World Fame.

Of the authors of the ten most popular poems, eight are poets of fairly wide fame and large production in verse. Foss and Knox, however, are writers known almost wholly for the poems which have won for each such world-wide claim. Foss was a writer by trade, chiefly of humorous and light verse, and a lecturer and librarian as well. Various volumes of his work have been published but none of it approaches in fame "The House by the Side of the Road." Knox, a Scotchman, is known for his one poem alone.
Rudyard Kipling is the only living writer among those whose names appear as authors of the ten most popular poems. Joyce Kilmer lost his life in the World War. If living he would be the youngest of the ten.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.
Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.
First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. Jars & Tubes Evangeline and Snowbound are long poems, and Gray's Elegy of medium length. The others are fairly short. Crossing the Bar has been often set to music as a hymn, which may account for its being the choice of so many readers among Tennyson's many great works.

The fate in America of "Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud," rests to some extent upon Abraham Lincoln's great regard for the poem. It is said that he knew it by heart before he knew the name of the author, and that he quoted it frequently.

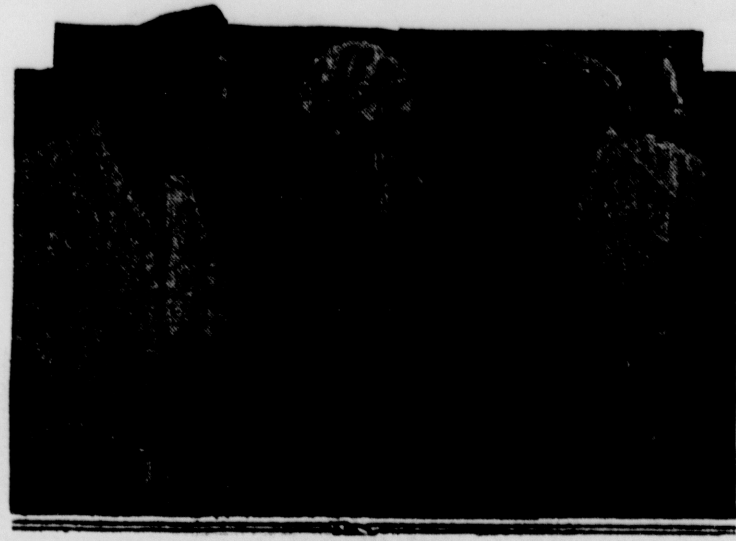

Summaries of City Votes.
This announcement of the most popular poem does not conclude the poetry poll. For one thing I am compiling a booklet of the most popular poems, which will be off the press in a few days and will be available at 10 cents a copy to any reader of any newspaper which took part in the poll. For another thing I am getting out, as fast as possible, summaries of the vote in each city, to show what was the favorite poem in that city.

This national poetry poll was a purely volunteer proposition, the newspapers starting it and their readers taking part because of the widespread national love for good poetry. My own part in handling the details has been more of a task than anticipated, but it has been good fun, and the response by more than 60,000 Americans has made it worth while.

Flood Sufferers Ask Relief

The Southland, which, although famed for its balmy weather, is not infrequently ravaged by storms, today is counting the toll of floods which have exacted many lives and a property damage which will run into millions.

As the swollen rivers and creeks in Alabama, Florida, Georgia and southeastern Mississippi were receding, the national Red Cross appropriated $25,000 for immediate relief, appealed for funds in the four states and instructed local chapters throughout the country to accept contributions.

Newspaper dispatches indicate that 30,000 persons are homeless in Alabama, which suffered the brunt of the damage. Rehabilitation has started in scattered places, but a few areas are still in peril.

The death toll in the flood sector is still undetermined. Forty-one deaths have been confirmed in four states, with Alabama heading the list with 24. But Governor Bibb Graves' office estimates that the casualties in Alabama alone will be more than 100.

Money is needed for food, clothing and medicine, for disease and pestilence are feared in the stricken zones which reveal appalling spectacles of desolation.

East Liverpool people who wish to aid this worthy cause should send their contributions to W. E. Dunlap, treasurer of the Red Cross chapter.

Criminal Law Revision

Speaking of 4,500 undergraduate students of the University of Illinois, recently, on "The Crime Problem and the Remedy," Judge Frank Comerford, of the Cook county criminal court advocated that judges be legally permitted to take part in the questioning of witnesses, a right which some would have denied to the courts at present possessing it.

It is only fair to say in this connection, however, that those challenging the right are those who invariably are in greater sympathy with crime and criminals than with justice and law-abiding citizens.

Calling attention to the inaugural address of President Hoover as it related to the crime situation, Judge Comerford insisted that it was the duty of the country and the several states to answer the presidential appeal, and urged that states should restore to courts "the power to make trials in the criminal courts a search for truth with the speedy and certain punishment of the guilty and the equally speedy and certain vindication of the innocent."

"Under the prevailing laws, jury trials in the criminal courts have degenerated into a mere game between the lawyers, in which justice, the essential purpose of the courts, is almost entirely lost sight of."

"Jury trial under the laws of Illinois patronizes crime and peters with criminals. The judge of the criminal court is sworn to follow the law and the law thwarts the judge and stops him in his honest effort to see that justice is done."

The jurist advocates that judges be allowed to take part in jury examination instead of having to sit by "while cunning, confusion, chicanery, perjury and prejudice are used to befuddle and betray the honest jurors into verdicts that acquit the guilty." He also suggested remedies for instructing jurors, as well as an amendment permitting comment to be made when a defendant fails to take the witness stand.

It's the same story heard from every reputable quarter; from bar associations, from upright judges, from honorable lawyers; all are as one that the criminal laws as they are today are vastly in favor of the criminal and against the interests of the law-abiding; that they are an advantage for legal tricksters and a disadvantage for members of the bar who would have the law work substantial justice.

Pickles

Now they are removing the warts from pickles—that sacred symbol of the home and its attendant gastronomic delights. Civilization, or that part of it which believes in the attraction of individuality, has watched efficiency tear its ruthless way through most everything that mankind has held dear and sacred.

It was believed and hoped that some things would be retained inviolate. Among these sacred objects was the pickle, twisted, lumpy and succulent. But, it has been scrutinized with a calculating, efficient eye by the manufacturers. By removing its warts and thereby destroying its individuality more pickles can be placed in a bottle. No consideration is given to the potent human values at stake. People eat pickles, not as they eat potatoes—for nourishment, but for enjoyment. It is an enjoyment which depends largely on appearance.

Although the taste is important, the delight of biting and disfiguring an object which is so eccentrically designed as a pickle is something that surpasses description. This trespass on humanity will be accepted, however, as the other trespasses by efficiency have been accepted, with an air of resignation.

Lucky people will raise their own pickles and eat them warts and all. The rest of the pickle eaters of the world will munch on a smooth cylinder of vegetable fiber and try to remember the days when a pickle was really a pickle.

Aviation 107 Years Old

Twenty-seven states have passed laws within the last few years to govern the operation of airplanes and the liability of fliers and owners. But surprising as it may seem, this general movement comes more than a century after the first appearance in an American court of a case involving the rights of a man in the air.

It was in 1822, according to World's Work magazine, that an aeronaut, one Charles Giffie, floated over New York and was forced to make a landing in the tenderly nurtured garden of a citizen named Swan. The balloon dragged Giffie 30 feet through Swan's prize radishes and potatoes, while the excited crowd that had followed him trampled down most of the vegetables that escaped his wrath. In the suit that followed, the court held the aeronaut liable for damages, asserting that his descent and cries for assistance were equivalent to a request to the crowd to follow him.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 20.—The seventieth congress which has recently expired added more than a thousand laws to those already on the statute books. These included the usual appropriation bills and many bills of only local importance. Bills of general importance, affecting the whole country or nearly so, numbered six. These were the revenue act of 1928; the alien property settlement act; the Mississippi flood control act; the merchant marine act of 1928; the Boulder Dam act; and the fifteen cruiser program.

Of equal or greater importance than any of these in the opinion of many observers was the ratification by the senate of the Kellogg peace pact. This has not yet come into force as France, Belgium and Japan have not yet ratified. The senate failed to ratify the treaty for compulsory arbitration of disputes between the American republics which was drawn at the Pan American conference held at Washington last December.

Although the record of the seventieth congress is a good one there were several conspicuous omissions. Railroad consolidation, government department, reorganization, unemployment, and rehabilitation of the coal industry are regarded as the bills of greatest importance which failed of action.

In the matter of farm relief it can not be said that congress failed to act for it passed the McNary-Haugen bill only to see it receive the presidential veto. The Muscle Shoals bill also was vetoed by being pocketed by President Coolidge.

Carrying out the terms of a pledged policy, the Republican congress cut $222,500,000 from the annual tax bill. This was the fourth successive cut since the war, the total saving to the American taxpayers amounting to $1,827,000,000. The seventieth congress approved debt funding agreements which had been negotiated by the World War debt funding commission with Yugoslavia, Greece and Austria. These covered $112,000,000. When congress adjourned the only war debts which had not been acted upon were those of Russia, Armenia, and Nicaragua.

The alien property settlement act was a comprehensive measure providing for the settlement to the extent of 80 per cent of the claims of enemy aliens whose property had been sequestered by the United States during the war. Provision also is made for the payment of claims of German owners of ships, docks, patents, and radio stations taken over.

The appropriations voted by the seventieth congress reached a very high total—$5,974,458,000 as compared with $5,136,573,000 in the sixty-ninth congress. This figure does not include certain permanent salary lists estimated by the bureau of the budget to amount to $1,378,679,735. Nor are deficiency appropriations included. These exceeded $500,000,000. In spite of these huge appropriations, the country has been so prosperous that even with reduced tax rates, a treasury surplus continues to materialize. For 1929, however, a surplus of only about a tenth of what it was for 1928 is anticipated by the treasury.

In addition to the Kellogg pact and the Pan American arbitration treaty, the senate ratified a tariff treaty with the new Nationalist government in China which covers customs matters. An international radio-telegraph treaty was ratified, a Geneva white slave convention, a liquor treaty with Japan, a naturalization treaty with Czechoslovakia, a commercial treaty with Austria, and a claims convention with Panama.

In the matter of national defense, the seventieth congress, after spirited debate, authorized the fifth program calling for $274,000,000. Substantial sums also were voted for the repair or modernization of various naval ships. For the next fiscal year appropriations were voted for the army in the total sum of $332,310,332, an increase of $20,000,345 over last year. Fifteen millions were voted for hospitals.

The seventieth congress was notable for the large sums appropriated for public works. The Mississippi river flood control project and the Boulder Dam project together received sums totaling $490,000,000; various public buildings received $175,000,000 and $135,000,000 was the amount voted for rivers and harbors and highway building in cooperation with the states.

Prohibition, as usual, attracted considerable attention of the seventieth congress, substantial sums being voted for enforcement.

Senate committee investigations to continue during the recess of congress include an inquiry into patronage matters in the South by the committee on post offices; the condition of the American Indian by the committee on Indian affairs; the treaty for the preservation of Niagara Falls by the foreign relations committee; and the Vane election case by the committee on privileges and elections.

Q. Where was surfboard polo first played? R. L. E. A. It was invented by members of the Hui Nalu club at Waikiki, Hawaii. It is a combination of polo and surfboard riding.

Q. When was The Black Crook produced? A. J. A. It opened at Niblo's Garden in New York City, September 12, 1866. The first season $650,000 was made. The extravaganza was playing somewhere almost continuously from 1866 to 1894.

Q. How fast is the population of Japan increasing? T. H. C.

A. It now has a population of more than 80,000,000, which increases almost 1,000,000 a year. Almost 60,000,000 live in Japan proper.

Q. Are there any commodities leaving the United States upon which export duties are placed? F. T. D. A. The United States has no export tariffs.

Q. What was the purpose of a fire ship? W. B. E. A. A fire ship was a vessel set on fire and sent among the enemy ships to destroy as many as possible by fire and to cause confusion. The use of such ships was first recorded at the siege of Tyro H. C. 332. Soon after the beginning of the 19th century their usefulness declined owing to the development of steam and change from wood to iron in ship building.

Q. When was the first inaugural ball held? N. A. A. It was held when James Madison entered upon his first term as president in 1809.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK March 20.—Among the unsung heroines, to my notion, are those constituting the army of beautiful girls struggling so valiantly and honorably merely to exist in the metropolis. Most of them, through sudden reverses of family fortune, were cast upon their own resources.

They had no training to cope with their sisters in the business world, and yet survive — uncomplainingly, hopefully and respectably. Three young ladies of my acquaintance, nurtured in homes of refinement and graduates of select finishing schools, are cases in point.

All are employed at salaries of not more than $25 a week each. They occupy a comfortable apartment which they maintain by renting rooms to paying guests. They do their own cooking and housework, and by frugality are able to attend the theater and symphony concert now and then.

These are examples easily multiplied into thousands and are ignored by the various welfare organizations chiefly because they neither seek nor want help. They carry on and are not the sort to be dredged out of murky waters and consigned to nameless graves.

They are, indeed, almost invariably light hearted and strangely enough devote their slight spare time to helping others. They have a way of laughing at dilemmas that would be the utter despair of the more frivolous creatures who take a "sugar daddy" and the easiest way.

Few smoke, nor do scarcely any drink, yet not in this age of hectic hurrah would they be called prudish. They have a girlish freshness and buoyancy and they are most engaging — square shooters who seem to many of us to be on the losing end of a rather one-sided game.

It is heartening therefore to record that during the past year society editors report more than a dozen of these "working girls" contracted extremely brilliant marriages with scions of not only rich but illustrious families. And that, fellow Kiwanians, is as it should be.

And around the Y. M. C. A.'s of the boroughs nightly will be seen innuendable young men courageously battling the metropolitan Goliath. They are reading, attending night classes or playing harmless games. The lights of Broadway are just so many lights. They retire early to be up early, and for those of us who have frivololed away much of our youth there is a conviction they are laids the next generation will be reading about in the up-and-at-em success stories.

Candor—we love to be candor—compels the observation, however, there are a number of highly successful men not conforming to the copy book formula. There is one who was booted out of three colleges, married a marvelous lady whom he deserted shamefully, is slightly potted half the time and is a conscienceless liar, yet a great industrial organization pays him a staggering sum to sit at a desk three hours every morning merely to suggest ideas. Ideas, too, that have compensated them handsomely despite the price.

Success of this sort packs the bread lines with those who think they can follow the same slipshod method and achieve similar results. The ratio of those who do is not one in a million. And such odds are too long for even the sure thing gambler.

I am among the increasing number of human jelly fish completely fed up with police incivility. Last evening I inquired, as politely as my bringing up warrants, of a cop if an automobile might be parked near a certain restaurant outside the congested zone. "Not unless you want a ticket!" he fairly snarled. I wanted to ask how the 10 spokesoes on the block—including the one he had just left, wiping his mouth on his coat sleeve—were getting along, but was too much of a ninny.

Apropos of nothing at all, I wonder if there are others also somehow secretly pleased when escaped prisoners make successful getaways. Sometimes I think it was the fall out of the high chair.

"There are times," writes Harvey L. "when you columnists do fairly well and I almost feel like praising you."

Dandy! But don't tax yourself. Tell us about your operation instead.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

In a magazine the other day I saw this joke. Somebody asked the overworked doctor why he didn't take a vacation. "I can't just now," he said, "my patients need me—they are beginning to come back from their vacations."

This is funny, but the story has a real point. Too many persons abuse their bodies and impair their health by the excesses of a vacation. It is too bad, but it's true.

A fine gentleman was in my office yesterday. He told me an interesting thing about the National Grange. It did not belong to that organization, but if the ritual is as sensible all along as in its closing, I'm for it.

The meeting is said to end with this admonition from the Master of the Grange: "Be temperate in all things—in eating and drinking and speaking, also in work and recreation."

That is fine. I am sure every sensible person will applaud the sentiment. We have come in these days of discussion over prohibition to think of "temperance" as having to do merely with drinking of alcoholic liquors.

No one can doubt that the abuse of alcohol has caused a shocking amount of misery and human suffering. But that is not the only form of intemperance that has caused individual distress and shortened many a life.

Intemperance in eating and in working is responsible for ruined lives. It has made a wreck of many a splendid man and spoiled the career of many a woman.

No matter what it is that you do; if you are not temperate about it there is trouble ahead. The Grange knows this. Everybody should know it and be governed accordingly.

We hear more or less about these types of intemperances. But how often does somebody warn you to be temperate in your recreations?

To be frank about it, I am much concerned about the abuses of recreation. Many a business man thinks he is treating his body well when he spends every week-end in the country.

He chases to the station to catch an express train to some delightful spot. He hustles into his sport clothes like a fireman on call to a three-alarm fire. He rushes to the courts with his heart all a-flutter and indulges in a fast and furious game of tennis.

Next morning he plays golf till noon, takes a horseback ride later, plays cards or dances half the night, as he did the night before. By the time he gets back to town Monday morning he is a wreck, requiring all the days till the next Friday afternoon to get back into something approaching normal condition.

A vacation is too often a composite of such pictures. No wonder the doctors can't take their vacations till late in the season.

Let's think it over. You need no more, then the suggestion. Can't we do better this year?

Other Editors Say

The Russian Saturn.

Just who is right, our American sympathizers with the soviet government and friends of the recognition of that government by the United States, including distinguished senators of this government and eminent ecclesiastical syndicate writers, or Fred Lange, safety engineer, who recently addressed the Cincinnati Laundry and Allied Trades' club?

The propaganda favoring recognition of the soviet government goes on apace. It is fostered by secret foes of American democracy and the present industrial system and by men sworn to support the constitution and laws of the United States, as well as by certain church denominations and peace societies without number. These agencies declare Russia to be a government worthy to have place with the Christian sovereignties of the world which believe in an industrial system that is based upon individual initiative and supported and extended by capitalistic accretion and resource.

Mr. Lange, who spent three years in Russia in intimate study of the workings of the soviet methods, asserts not only that the bolshevik experiment in industry has failed, but that the entire moral fabric of the Russian nation has been wrecked by the proletarian formula. He alleges that this formula was forced upon the people by leaders who have repudiated every principle of civilization which has been held dear by nations since the earliest organizations of society into groups of men and women who had aspired and yearned to find above the muck and mire of earthly instinct and desire a something that would clothe them with that cleanliness and dignity which lifts mankind above the level of the brute.

Russia, said Lange, with its bolshevik program, is opposed to every tenet of American civilization. This investigator, who speaks from three years' experience, as against the three months' experience of Senator Wheeler, told how in Russia virtue in woman now is mocked at by bolshevik disciples as a relic of bourgeois morality. The family had become a thing of no importance, human nature a weakness and the conception of God a rejected delusion.

The bolshevik is the avowed enemy of religion, and the state the champion of atheism. The monster created by Lenin and Trotzky, like Frankenstein's demon, has grown beyond the power of decent moral control, ravens upon the blood of opposition, under Stalin and his comrades and begins to devour its own children. A poetic justice has made Trotzky one of its snarling victims.

Who is right, Bishop Blake of the Methodist church; Senator Borah, the reds, pinks and yellows of American communism, or this man who tells of what he has seen and experienced in the "paradise" of proletarianism which has replaced the former government of the czars?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy.

Are You Too Easy Going?
 It is fine to be high-spirited and good-natured and feel that you will not permit petty matters to interfere with your good temper.

You want to be known as one who looks upon the bright side and you don't want to consider anything that distresses you.

Tomorrow is another day; why worry, even to fortify yourself against possible bad effects?

Aren't you too easy going?
 Haven't you carried this to the point where things that should impress you seriously have little or no effect upon you?

You have schooled yourself to take everything—good and bad—as a matter of fact, and yourself as neutral.

Your mistakes fail to make enough impression for you to avoid the same kind of mistake next time.

You wonder why some persons are so irritated because of your deficiencies or because you do so little thinking with your work?

You excuse yourself with the plea that good results are not worth what they take out of you, and thereby you prove yourself pretty shallow.

Everything you do is worth your best efforts.

INSTEAD of exercise

Don't suffer the consequences of persistent lack of exercise. Learn the simple secret of the exerciser in the vest-pocket box for a dime! Millions know it!

Cascarets make bilious, headachy, constipated people feel wonderful. Their effect is not only quick, but it's lasting. They give the bowels as much real exercise as they get from an hour in the saddle.

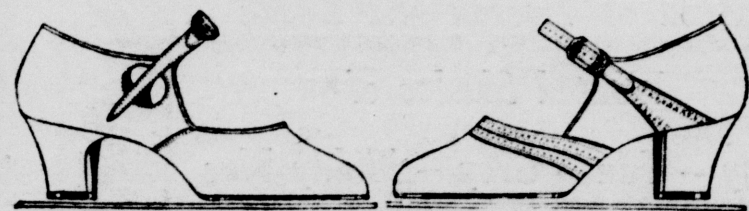

Oils, salts and ordinary laxatives do not act like Cascarets. These things produce only mechanical or chemical action. They actually weaken the bowels. You have to keep dosing with them.

Each time you see Cascarets, your bowels become stronger. They are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the natural peristaltic action of the bowel muscles. Nothing else does this. That accounts for the popularity of Cascarets and their tremendous sales of over 20 million packages a year!

The World's Loveliest Clothes... say these greatest experts "actually Re-Newed by Lux"

Amazing experience of All Great Movie Studios New York Musical Shows Famous Dressmakers Buyers for 132 Great Stores

HERE are the world's greatest authorities on lovely modern clothes—with experience to help you!

Caring for million-dollar wardrobes, these big organizations tested many different cleansing methods and soaps.

And they have found that—"The original loveliness of fabrics can actually be Re-Newed again and again with Lux—and with Lux they last more than twice as long."

Following the same tested rule—cleansing all nice things in the lovely, magical Lux suds—you, too, can keep them enchantingly new so very much longer!

Every Musical Show

In New York uses Lux to double the life of stockings. (Above) Harriet Hoctor, lovely dancer in "The Three Musketeers." All the stockings of cast and chorus of "The Three Musketeers," like those of every musical show on Broadway, are cleansed with Lux.

Fifth Avenue Dressmakers

Insist upon Lux to keep stockings and lingerie worn by mannequins with the smart costumes they model, like new twice as long. (Above) A charming mannequin models a suit in gingham checks—an important Bergdorf-Goodman design for spring.

Million-Dollar Wardrobe Test Proves Lux Most Economical

Above, wardrobe mistress and costume director discuss tests involving million-dollar movie wardrobes: "A box of Lux seems like a small thing," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials say, "Yet it stands for dollars upon dollars saved in the studio." Lux saves clothes and money because, made of the purest materials known, it has no harmful alkali... and with Lux there is no rubbing to weaken or strain.

Great Movie Studios

all use Lux to double the life of lovely clothes, such as this enchanting negligee of chiffon and satin, worn by Billie Dove, First National Star. Billie Dove, like other stars—and all the big movie studios—trusts fine things only to Lux!

Department Buyers

Improvement Project Approved By Council

Authorize Paving of Michael Alley and Urge City-wide Campaign to Fix Other Streets and Thoroughfares.

WELLSVILLE, O., Mar. 20.—Marking the initial step in what may take the form of a city-wide campaign to improve alleys and other similar thoroughfares where abutting property is financially capable, Wellsville city council last night ordered a resolution for the improvement of Michael alley.

Michael alley is located between Chester avenue and Buckeye avenue, connecting Seventeenth street and Aten avenue.

Improvement program was inaugurated by property owners, 15 of whom signed a petition which was presented to council last night. Several appeared before council and voiced pleas for the improvement, pointing out, chiefly, that property values were suffering because of conditions, especially during the winter.

It was estimated that the work would cost $2.20 a square yard, or about $1.98 a running foot. In other words, a property with, for instance, a 30-foot frontage, would be assessed approximately $59.

Estimates City's Share of Job.

The city's share of the job, according to Engineer R. D. McGill, would amount to not more than $100 and, possibly, as low as $40.

The city spent probably that much last year in putting in a ditch there, said McGill, and will continue to spend more as time goes on.

Service-Safety Director George Imbrie said, "I think these people are to be commended for taking the initial step in the improvement of alleys and streets and if they don't get a unanimous vote on it, I won't know what to think, especially since the cost to the city is really insignificant."

The motion for the resolution got a unanimous vote, being sponsored by Peters and Haugh.

Resolution for the improvement of Commerce street from Ninth street to Fifteenth street was passed also without a dissenting ballot. The property owners, in this case, will be assessed, the law says, "the entire amount of the cost less one-half the largest prior assessment."

In other words, if it cost a property owner $50 in assessments the last time the street was improved and his share of the cost of the proposed improvement this time would be $100, he would pay the time would be $100, less half the $50, prior assessment, or $75.

New Rule on Street Work

While discussing streets, Service Director Imbrie said that he had established a new rule, to be rigidly enforced, pertaining to tearing up and relaying improved streets. Where a portion of the paving is torn up, he said, it must be placed back on concrete base in every instance.

New cemetery endowment ordinance was enacted by council. The former ordinance authorized the sinking fund to appropriate 10 per cent of the gross receipts of the cemetery. The new ordinance shifts that duty to the auditor and service director. The fund, so established, shall be maintained perpetually and the interest devoted to maintenance of the cemetery.

Attention of property owners in Main street near Sixth street and in Main near Seventeenth street will be called to the condition of curbing in front of their properties. They will be notified by Council Clerk George Hardman to fix them.

Service Director Imbrie also made the announcement that police will be ordered to keep a lookout for violations of city statutes prohibiting dumping of ashes, rubbish, or anything, in fact, in alleys and streets. Complaints received lately refer mostly to ash piles.

Plane Cider Thoroughfares.

Imbrie, who has had appeals all winter to put ashes on some streets and take ashes off others, jocularly remarked "there ought to be a new municipal department created and labeled cinders and ashes," pointed out, "there's an ordinance against dumping ashes in alleys and from now on we are going to enforce it." And councilmen lauded his stand.

Continuing on the street theme, Imbrie explained that steps are being contemplated by the service department for scraping and otherwise improving dirt and cinder thoroughfares in the city. Riverside avenue will be one of the first jobs.

Council approved a resolution authorizing the service director to sell a small building located near Wooster's, which for a number of years housed a small hose cart.

Auditor Fred Eckfeld's report was read as follows: General fund, $779.17; safety, $817.34; health, $697.03; service, $807.27; water, $2,324.76; cemetery, $2,224.43.

YOUTH STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Ralph Gibson, 8, Injured As He Steps From Street Car.

Ralph, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Gibson, of Clark avenue, was severely cut about the head and bruised yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when he was struck by an automobile at Wooster's, as he alighted from a city street car.

Charles Kellih, 50, driver of the automobile, posted a bond of $50 in police court here for a hearing Tuesday on a charge of reckless driving. Kellih lives at 1331 Oak Grove drive, Steubenville.

After the youngster had been struck, the Steubenville man took him into his car and drove to the home of Dr. J. M. King who advised that the lad be taken to the East Liverpool hospital.

Dr. King was assisted by Dr. R. J. Marshall.

STUDENTS GIVEN WRITING AWARDS

During the last term, members of the typewriting class of the local high school have been submitting manuscripts to the Gregg Writer company of Chicago, which is conducting a contest in artistic typing.

School authorities have just received notice that the following students will receive certificates of merit for their work:

Eunice Collins, Mary Deldrick, Mildred Dornick, Ralph Dyser, Nova Faloon, Esther Fulton, Beina Vista Fultz, Clara Gelsse, Ruth Hamilton, Rosa Hinz, Zana Holliday, Helen Hughes, Mary Louise Lee, Margaret Irwin, Alice Lamp, Eva Mann, Leola Mick, Louise Miller, Sara Snyder, Elizabeth Storck, Mary White and Helen Zahrendt.

From a list of 22 selections, the paper typewritten by Miss Esther Fulton was adjudged most artistic. She will be awarded a silver pin.

YOUNG TO ATTEND ROTARY SESSION

The Rev. Don Young, pastor of the First Christian church, and secretary of the Rotary club last night was named delegate from the Wellsville club to state Rotary convention in Akron April 17 and 18. Harry Brennan was selected as alternate.

Brennan was chairman of last night's meeting. Ralph Merriman, Jess Tarr and Harold Russell discussed various phases of the convention.

Special music was given by Mrs. Oliver Cummings, pianist, and Paul Katz, violinist, featuring Irish melodies.

PASTOR SPEAKER AT KIWANIS MEET

The Rev. Charles R. Loney, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, East Liverpool, addressed members of the Wellsville Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon yesterday at the Riverview hotel.

Dr. Clyde Larkins of the East Liverpool club extended an invitation to the Wellsville members to attend a meeting of the Ceramic City unit March 28 in the Travelers' hotel.

Loan Company Made Defendant.

The City Loan & Savings company of Alliance, has been made party defendant in an action filed by the Kensington Supply company, of Kensington, against Charles F. Frederick of Summitville. The Alliance company is asked to set up its claim or be barred, after priorities have been determined. The plaintiff obtained a judgment against Frederick for $281.38 and costs in common pleas court last September, and the court is now asked to order a sale of the chattels and a distribution made.

Braves Bow to Yanks.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20.—The Boston Braves usually trim the Yankees in their spring series, but this year the New Yorkers have beaten the beaneaters in three out of four starts. The world's champions can clinch the series by winning one of the three remaining games.

Lazzeri's hit in the tenth gave the Yanks a 6 to 5 decision yesterday. Babe Ruth again went hitless and Florida fans are still waiting to acclaim that first home run.

Robins Play Phils.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 20.—The Brooklyn Robins play their first exhibition game of the year today, with the Phillies furnishing the opposition. Due to injuries suffered by Wright and Gilbert, the Robins will present last year's lineup all over again except that Johnny Frederick, rookie outfielder from Memphis, will be in center. Clark is scheduled to pitch.

Ott Fails to Hit.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 20.—John McGraw's chief worry today was the failure of Melvin Ott, youthful outfielder of the New York Giants, to hit in exhibition games. He has plenty of reserves available if Ott's slump

State Schools, Colleges Turn To Baseball

At St. John's Buckeyes On Kentucky Trip.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—With the 1929 basketball season safely tucked away, all eyes for this or that team's bad showing almost completely averted, and the indoor track season over, colleges and high schools throughout the state are turning their attention to the diamond. Fans of the greatest American sport will once more hear the old familiar sound of batting balls and the sound of horsehide spheres against the leather of the catcher's glove.

Columbus high schools have already announced the season's schedule, and the coaches have issued the first call for candidates. Other schools in the state are heeding the call of the first robin, and will have their teams in practice before long.

Ohio colleges for the most part, have been having indoor practice for some time, and the hopefuls are anxious to get to the open air where they can bat the horsehide with all the energy and strength of a Ruth, Gosline or Hornsby.

Ohio State university, the largest institution in the state, has practically opened its baseball season, with the team's annual southern training trip already begun. The Buckeyes are in Kentucky at present for a series of games with the university of Kentucky nine. Prospects seem bright so far with a formidable list of rookies on hand, and seven lettermen back in the fold of Coach St. John. A new coach has been added to the staff, his name is Wayne Wright, and the Saint expects to "do things" in the Western conference this spring.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Thirty blocks further downtown, the mugs fought at the ticket booths for the privilege of making Jimmy McLarnin a richer man than ever he will need to be. He is well on his way toward the million he couldn't spend with the help of the marine corps, but you wouldn't think he had a nickel for car fare if you saw Jimmy McLarnin today as he sat, unconscious of the incongruity of surroundings that included threadbare carpet and horsehair furniture, and intimated very earnestly that he wouldn't change places with a prince of the blood.

Maybe nobody else would either, if they were due to cut $50,000 three ways with Ray Miller and the garden corporation on Friday night. But McLarnin intimates that money doesn't rate six, two and even with contentment and, somehow, he makes you believe him. Just plain folks, this fellow.

He is, in fact, all that is left of the old timer who fought because fighting was his life and so he sat in his dingy suite at the "family" hotel he finds suitable to his needs and talked of fighting with the enthusiasm of one who discusses his life work. An austere spring jutted out from the horsehair and stabbed him in the back.

He ignored it and went on to say that he knew of nothing else that would please him more than fighting, unless it was aviation. No money in that, you counter, and he comes right back with the crack, what of it? Fighting is the thing he wants to do, he tells you; so he fights. If it were flying, he would fly.

Possibly the mugs have sensed this unremitting characteristic of the boy and its appeal to them is reflected in the sold-out houses that almost inevitably accompany his appearances here.

The mugs merely know Miller for what he purports to be; whereas, they know McLarnin for what he is.

continues, however. McGraw says he is well satisfied with the work of his pitchers and will carry ten pitchers until June 15.

Senators vs. St. Louis Today.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 20.—Columbus Senators were to meet the St. Louis Browns here this afternoon in an exhibition game after being downed by the Cincinnati Reds' team made up mostly of rookies yesterday, 5 to 4. The Browns come here after winning from the Phillies at Winter Haven yesterday. In the game with the Redlegs yesterday, the Senators had three hurriers on the mound, all showing some promise. They were Kendall, Maxton and Lloyd.

KAYOES FOE AND SINGS 'MACHREE'

NEW YORK, March 20.—Tommy Lown, former champion amateur boxer, believes in "saying it with music." The New Yorker made his professional debut here last night by knocking out Jimmy Watts of Atlanta in two rounds, and was so exhilarated by his victory that he sang the chorus of "Mother Machree" from the ring, to the astonishment of the base ringworms.

'MY CONSCIENCE IS CLEAR,' SAYS H. M. DAUGHERTY

Former Cabinet Member Says He is Out of Public Life.

DEFENDS RECORD

Tells Reporter He Was Worth Million When Appointed.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the second of a series of articles based on an exclusive interview with Harry M. Daugherty, formerly a member of the Harding cabinet.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

(Copyright, 1929, L. N. S.)
SI SARASOTA, Fla., March 20.—"I never did anything while I was in public office, as a servant of the American people, that I would not do again. I was worth a million dollars when I took the office of attorney general of the United States. I was not worth that much when I left the office, and I am not worth that much now."

Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the cabinet of the late President Warren G. Harding, made this statement in an exclusive interview with International News service today, as, for the first time, he made a detailed defense of his record as a public official.

"I have a clear conscience," Daugherty declared. "I go to sleep peacefully at night. I am out of public life and I do not know that I ever will return. I never think of the past, I think only of today, and tomorrow. I harbor no bitterness against any man, even by enemies, and everybody knows Harry Daugherty was never afraid to make enemies."

Never Craved Power, He Says. "I never craved power, I was just pushed along, up from boyhood as the winds of time, fortune and misfortune, carried me. I always made it a policy to help someone else rather than consider my own interests first. I wanted to be a lawyer, not a politician, but through force of circumstance I became both."

"Hardly any man in the country has been assailed with the vigor I have been. I made plenty of enemies. That is why. Any man who is a positive character is bound to make them. "I made enemies during the railroad shopmen's strike when I went to Chicago, after consulting no one but the president, and obtained that injunction that enabled the mail trains to run in spite of the strike. I made more enemies, and perhaps more bitter enemies, because of my prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust act."

Proud of Record, He Declares. "The attorney general didn't handle the money when I was in office. I organized the department of justice so that from five to fifty persons knew what I was doing all the time. I did it as a precaution—as a matter of safety."

"I resolved that I'd not take a drink while prosecuting the dry laws, and I did not until I became a private citizen again."

"All I ask is that the American people consider my record. I am proud of my record. The attorney general's office is the easiest of all to run as far as peace of mind is concerned. He has to ask himself but one question 'what is the right of it?'" the courtroom, and the foreman advised the court that one juror refused to cast a ballot.

"Return to your room and reach a verdict if you can," Judge Lones suggested.

As the jury retired, one juror made an effort to talk with the bailiff, James Stevenson.

"Get into the jury room," the juror was told, and the incident was reported to the court.

Finally the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

SENATE VOTE ON STATE QUIZ CALLED TODAY

Investigation of Donahey Appointees' Departments Proposed.

ACKERMAN PLAN

House to Act on "Truth-in-fabrics" Law Question.

By C. H. HADDOCK, International News Service Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—Action by the senate this afternoon on the Ackerman resolution proposing a senatorial investigation of activities in the state agriculture and highways departments during the administration of former Gov. Vic Donahey is provided for on today's calendar.

The house calendar calls for action on the Shepherd resolution memorializing congress to enact a "truth-in-fabrics" law.

The senate this afternoon, also, is scheduled to give consideration to house amendments to the Miller-McCormick bill which would permit officials of state-controlled educational institutions to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting dormitories.

Bills on today's senate calendar for roll-calls on the question of passage include: The Wise bill, permitting abandonment of part of the Ohio canal and lateral canals in Stark county for canal purposes and authorizing sale, or lease, of such lands; the Marshall bill, revising the general corporation act; the Johnson bill, relative to the eradication of tuberculosis among cattle; the Farnsworth bill, regulating professional engineering and land surveying; the Abele bill, dealing with insurance companies other than life and mutual protective associations.

The house calendar calls for a vote on the question of passing the initiative bill providing for a state board to examine and license chiropractors.

Bible Bill Faces Opposition.
COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—(INS)—Defeat of the Ku Klux Klan-supported anti-alien labor bill in the Ohio senate yesterday, today boded ill for the Bible bill, which is now pending before the state legislature.

When the roll was called, 15 senators voted "yes," ten voted "no," three senators kept silent, and one senator was absent. Sixteen votes, a three-fifths majority, is necessary to pass a bill.

Sentiment expressed in the defeat of the labor bill will undoubtedly reflect itself upon the Bible measure, which admittedly is supported by the Ku Klux Klan, and which requires the reading of ten passages of the Bible daily in the public schools of Ohio, is put on the floor of the upper house for consideration.

The Bible bill is still in a committee, and may never see the light of day. It is to come up for discussion Thursday night.

CALLES ARMY ON TRAIL OF REBEL FORCES

Mexican Federals Pursue Fleeing Troops Of Escobar.

TORREON SEIZED

Chihuahua and Juarez Are Objectives of Loyal Soldiers.

By International News Service.
A Mexican federal army of 28,000 infantry and cavalry, supported with artillery and airplanes, and personally directed by Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles is moving northward toward Torreon, today, in pursuit of Gen. Escobar's rebel army.

The two main objectives of the federals are Chihuahua City, capital of the state of Chihuahua, and Juarez, the chief Mexican border port, opposite El Paso.

Gen. Escobar's insurgents retreated northward from Escalon after federal airmen had bombed rebel troop trains at that place. They were reported today to be near Jimenez.

Mexico City reported that Gen. Calles entered Torreon last night, establishing temporary headquarters there.

On the other hand agents of the rebel cause in El Paso circulated a sensational report that Gen. Calles had left for Central Mexico as the result of "fresh revolutionary disturbances at Leon and Guanajuato." The rebels claim that Puebla has fallen into their hands.

There is no official confirmation of any of the rebels' claims.

If the rebel leaders flee across the border into the United States President Emilio Portes Gil plans to ask their extradition on the ground they rifled the vaults of various branches of the Bank of Mexico.

is the most important part of our physical machinery, excepting perhaps the heart and lungs.

THOUSANDS of children are handicapped by twisted spines, often slight curvatures, causing pressure on important nerves, reducing efficiency not conspicuously enough to cause alarm in parents.

NOTHING is more dangerous than reckless manipulation of the spine, by quacks, nothing more important than carefully watching the spine of a growing child and remedying promptly any defect.

Some old-fashioned doctors unfortunately adhere to the belief that no matter what is wrong, the only remedy is some kind of a medicine taken internally.

AS REGARDS spinal adjustment, you might as well give internal medicine to an office building with its steel framework out of gear.

See that your children sit straight, that they do not lean over while reading to get a better light. Teach them to hold their shoulders back, use their diaphragms and keep the weight of the ribs off their lungs. You will have healthier children. And do the same for yourself.

TO AVOID being run over while crossing the streets, put on snow-white clothing at night, that makes you visible at a distance, and startlingly visible when the headlights strike you. So says an investigating committee. On country roads, carrying a red lantern would help also, but properly lighted streets present the real solution.

CITIZENS who complain of sluggishness in their home city might communicate with Mr. Field, president of the Oakland, Cal., Chamber of Commerce. There isn't sluggishness in Oakland.

WITHIN a year, more than 100 important industries have established plants in Oakland, including Walter Chrysler, selecting the city for his new Pacific Coast plant, and the Sieberling Tire company, of Akron, O.

OAKLAND possesses a really magnificent and adequate airport and is now getting under way a new $10,000,000 harbor improvement program, part of a plan to dominate the coast in the air and on the water.

SAN FRANCISCO, of the Golden Gate, and Oakland should be united by bridge and tunnel. Some short-sighted on both sides are opposed. That sort of foolishness should be left to Great Britain and France. They have been trying for 100 years to overcome objections to a channel tunnel that would have saved many times its cost in money and many lives in the big war.

tiring secretary, Miss Grace Smurthwaite. The treasurer, Miss Helen Johnson, gave a report of the organization's finances.

Announcement was made by Prof. H. D. Rist of the forthcoming All-City Parent-Teachers' association meeting which will be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday, April 11, when Mrs. Simon, of Columbus, head of the state extension department, will make an address.

Miss Phyllis Boyd, the association's delegate to the State Teachers' association meeting in Columbus last December, made a report that was unique in that it included exacting close-ups of the speakers who addressed that gathering. "I believe you will understand their viewpoints better when you know something of their gural apparatus, something of their general appearance," she commented. She quoted Rabbi Silver, of Cleveland, as suggesting that teachers all over the land should prepare to teach how future increased leisure brought about by additional utilization of machinery in industry may be beneficially spent for the good of society generally.

Miss Updegraff Guest
Presented by President Harries to those among whom she formerly turned and functioned for years Miss Florence Updegraff, former high school principal, was acclaimed by the teachers. "I am grateful and feel honored by having been made a life member of the East Liverpool Teachers' association and heartily thank you," she said. "I am delighted to be present with you on this occasion."

At the initial banquet of the organization for the present school term last September, Miss Updegraff made the principal address.

By a unanimous vote it was decided to invite Dr. Richeson, superintendent of the Youngstown public schools, to speak at a future meeting of the association.

"Norma's Dream" and "Ambition", both by Harold Bennett, were given by an orchestra consisting of Arthur Hall, violinist, Ralph Johnson, cornet; Lloyd Swan, saxophone; Miss Ruth Meador, trombone and Miss Helen Hannan, pianist.

Upon the motion of Prof. H. D. Rist, seconded by Miss Baum Prof. Hugh F. Laughlin was requested to have this quintet become the nucleus for an additional orchestra on future gatherings of the association. "Since one of the manifest needs of this organization is tone, your suggestion will be carried out," Laughlin promised.

During the election of officers Miss Adeline Blake, first vice president, assumed the gavel.

Urges Thinking in Internationalism
Introduced by W. H. Nix, general secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A., Ebersole, not long in America following service after the World War in Poland, declared that from the former empires of Germany, Austria-Hungary and surrounding territory nine republics had been formed or evolved as a result of the treaty of Versailles.

"I would have you think in terms of internationalism rather than that of nationalism," he declared. "And particularly would I stress the need of Americans departing from the viewpoint that the men of Europe are fit only to be in constant strife and warfare. Let us not be guilty of underestimating people of other races. If you care for the people of the world you will make every effort to have children in your care think in friendly terms about people in Europe. The young folks in the section in which I have been located have forgotten the war and generation is arising that is going in for just the ideals that animate us here in America."

He spoke of the great numbers of the various races all under one government in Poland and the marked progress, despite the difficulty attending the departure in welding them together in common culture and ideals following the horror of the war and the terrible suffering from typhus and other causes at its close.

He told of the great work done by the Y. M. C. A. of which was a part in bringing about the present promising situation therein.

"And 75 per cent of the members of our Y. M. C. A. clubs formed there are composed of Roman Catholic young men," he disclosed. "And all of them are proficient earnest Christian workers who are doing all they can to bring about a new day and outlook, where so much anguish has been had as a result of the terrible warfare that ended a decade ago."

41 ARE DEAD IN FLOOD ZONE

Several Florida Towns Inundated; Others Imperiled.

ATLANTA, Mar. 20.—Tons of flood waters were unleashed upon northwestern Florida today from the rampant streams of Alabama and Georgia, which have left in their wake 41 dead, thousands homeless and millions in property damage.

Several Florida towns are inundated, and some 2,000 persons were reported homeless. A half dozen other towns were imperiled by the flood. Only one death has been reported from the Florida section.

Hundreds of persons in northwestern Florida were warned to leave their homes in the lowlands by a courier who rode from Bainbridge, Ga., in a twentieth century jitney in a race with the crest of the Apalachicola, Chattahoochee and Flint rivers. He was Edward H. Calvin, of Bainbridge.

"ALL RUN DROWN" KONJOLA BRINGS QUICK RELIEF

Grateful Lady Declares That New Medicine Was First and Only One That Touched Her Case.

MRS. JOSEPHINE JONES. "It is easy for me to understand why Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends," said Mrs. Josephine Jones, Route No. 1, Valley Pike, Dayton, Ohio. "For the past year I was so ill that I began to fear that there was nothing to help me. Everything I tried failed, and I might just as well have taken so much water. I was sick all over, had dizzy spells, and was very nervous and weak. "I had read and heard of so many fine things about this Konjola, and what it was doing in almost hopeless cases, that I determined to find out more about it myself. I was not long in learning that Konjola is all and more than is claimed for it. Three bottles swept away that tired feeling, calmed my nerves, and ended the dizzy spells. I could feel renewed strength all over me. I am doing my work now, and gaining in weight and in strength. Konjola is simply wonderful, and I take pleasure in adding my endorsement to the thousands who know what this remedy really is." Konjola is sold in East Liverpool, Ohio, at Carnahan's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

FORCED LANDING TAKES TOLL OF 14 LIVES

With motors of his huge plane faltering shortly after taking off from Newark, N. J., airport with a full load of sightseers, Pilot Lou Foote, who escaped death, fought valiantly to hold his giant Ford plane in the air. Fourteen persons were killed when the plane crashed into the iron frame of a freight car about a mile from the landing field where thousands of horrified visitors stood powerless to avert the tragedy. The top shows the type of plane which carried the victims to their death and below are the crumpled wings of the death plane. The accident is one of the worst in the history of heavier-than-air aeronautics in this country.

ACCEPT GOD'S GRACE, IS PLEA

Rev. Harry Rodgers in Ninth Street Church Pulpit.

"God's grace is sufficient under all circumstances" declared the Rev. Harry Rodgers, evangelist, at the Church of God revival, West Ninth street, last night. His subject was "The Kingdom of God."

He will speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight upon the subject, "The Church As The Light." At the same time Harry Montgomery, character of the Second Christian church, will sing.

Congregational singing was directed last night by Miss Estella Sprotman, of Kittanning, Pa. She sang two solos: "All That I Want Is Jesus" and "Don't Let It Be You."

A feature was the singing of the hymn, "Everybody Ought To Love Jesus," by various units of the congregation in turn.

"Men must press into the kingdom of God," asserted the Rev. Mr. Rodgers. When this has been done man is in the world, but not of the world. When one is saved God sets up his kingdom in the hearts of men.

"Paul, a child of God, testified that Christ lived in him. 'It is not meat and drink, but righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.' We are kings and princesses rejoicing over the nullifying of sin in our lives when we have been saved."

"The president of the United States looks out for the interests of the people. So God provides for His own. The kingdom of God is not of this world. Persons in the kingdom may be mixed with sinful people and be scattered all over the earth, yet the fact that Christ is in their hearts as He was in that of Paul makes all of them members of the kingdom of God no matter where they may be."

"To be a genuine Christian is to be a member of the Kingdom of the Master."

Nine-tenths of the kerosene imported into China last year was from the United States.

Even the fog scenes which appear in the picture were not made by the usual studio method. Although the customary oil sprays and piping were taken aboard the ship, Director Howard Higgins encountered two days of "bright" fog of such consistency that it was possible for cameramen John Mesal to film the scenes without artificial atmospheric aid.

"Sal of Singapore" was adapted by Elliott Clawson from Dale Collins' novel, "The Sentimentalists." Alan Hale appears opposite Phyllis Haver, and Fred Kohler, Dan Wolheim, Pat Harmon, Noble Johnson and Jules Cowles are prominent in the cast.

Six men are suspected of the murder of the flashing Broadway chorus queen, "The Canary." On person killed her but circumstances and motives are established during the investigation of the crime which point to each of the six men as the murderer. Then the mystery seems to clear when "The Canary's" chorus girl friend is accused of the murder, the motive established and clues uncovered to prove her connection with the murder.

"Who Killed the Canary?" Police are baffled at the daring crime. Detectives scurry hither and yon, questioning, accusing, arresting. Then Philo Vance enters upon the case. Here is the amateur sleuth created by S. S. Van Dine, the famous author hiding behind a pen name, for his series of popular detective stories. Philo Vance, played by William Powell, discovers the true criminal in a unique manner.

Unlike most maritime screen productions, "Sal of Singapore," Phyllis Haver's new Pathe picture, which opens at the State theater tomorrow, is a sea film without a single storm, mutiny or shipwreck to enliven the action.

That, alone, should make it an unusual picture, but it is further distinguished by the fact that its ship scenes were all made at sea. Not a single scene was made in the studio tank. Not even the usual movie ships were used. Instead, two veteran 250-foot freighters of the McCormick Line were engaged by Pathe and they were taken off their regular runs between San Diego and Seattle with their captains and crew intact.

Local Girl Overcomes Weakness

SIX YEARS OF ANXIETY STOPPED WHEN PARENTS GIVE HER OWA-TON-NA.

Thousands of parents are driven almost to desperation when their children have a kidney or bladder weakness which causes bed-wetting. Many blame the child but in most cases the child is not at fault; but the fault lies in harmful poisons which have been accumulating in the body, causing kidney excretion to become highly acid. In these conditions, nothing can be more valuable than Owa-Ton-Na. Its gentle tonic effect on the stomach, liver and kidneys and its assistance to the body in the elimination of harmful poisons aid in a rapid return to normal, and this condition is overcome.

One of the happy parents in East Liverpool, in whose daughter Owa-Ton-Na has overcome such a condition, says, "My 13-year-old daughter, Dorothy Stevens, 445 First avenue, has been suffering from a kidney and bladder condition for the past 6 years. It caused us a great deal of worry since we felt Dorothy was getting to the point where she was going to outgrow this condition, she should have done so."

"We just didn't know what to do. We had tried so many things but nothing seemed to do any good. She was having terrible backaches and was pretty much rundown. When Owa-Ton-Na was recommended, we decided to give it a trial, and it certainly has done wonders for her. Her backaches are gone and the nervousness that is usually present in a girl of this age has been overcome. It just seems as if she is a new girl around the house and we certainly can't recommend Owa-Ton-Na too highly for the good it has done her."

Owa-Ton-Na is a harmless tonic which gives the body a general systemic cleansing, adding nature in the elimination of harmful poisons which brings around disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal tract; rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health.

You, too, should give Owa-Ton-Na a trial if you are suffering; or better still call at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 E. Sixth street, and have a talk with the laboratory representative who will be glad to explain the merits of this fine Indian Remedy. Owa-Ton-Na is also obtainable at Carnahan's East End Store and Newell, W. Va. Store.

Nervous Woman, 58, Gets Big Surprise

"After a year of nervous trouble life is worth living again. At my age, 58, results from Vinol are surprising!" —Emma Bryant.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool and Newell.—Adv.

SIX CHURCHES JOIN IN HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Opening Meeting Monday Night in Church of Christ.

SPECIAL SERMONS

Afternoon Meeting Will Be Held on Good Friday.

Six downtown churches will unite in the observance of Holy week, with services every night, except Saturday, and also on Good Friday afternoon.

The opening service Monday night will be held in the First Church of Christ, with the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, as the speaker. Tuesday night's service will be held in the First Methodist Protestant church when the Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Christian church, will preach. The Rev. J. H. Dimitt, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, will speak Wednesday night in the First Methodist Episcopal church. Thursday night's service will be held in the First United Presbyterian church with the Rev. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church delivering the sermon.

Services between 2 and 3 o'clock Good Friday afternoon will be held in the First Presbyterian church, with the sermon by the Rev. L. J. Davison of the First United Presbyterian church. Communion will be distributed at this service.

The concluding services will be held at the First Presbyterian church Friday night when the augmented Apollo male chorus of 60 voices will sing Theodore Dubois' sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ." The program will start at 8:15 o'clock instead of the usual hour, 7:30 o'clock.

PICTURE PATTERN

GRACIOUS WRAP AROUND.

THE STYLE sketched in Fashion's latest whim in graceful wrap around in tunic type with plaited side, a youthful idea especially suited to mature figures. A fitted shawl hugs the hips and fastens at side with decorative buttons. It is made of printed silk crepe in red tones with plain silk crepe contrast, a conservative combination for all-day wear. It is captivating in lipstick red georgette crepe for more formal wear.

THE PATTERN No. 2618 is design in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust, and contains a Picture Chart that is most interesting for it explains so thoroughly in pictures how it is made.

In ordering pattern clip the design shown or order by number, and be sure to specify the size you want. Write your name and address plainly, enclosing 15 cents and mail to Fashion Department, East Liverpool Review. From 7 to 10 days are required for delivery of patterns.

NEW FASHION BOOK containing all the Spring styles is 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

"Tiny" Hearn, Seven-Foot Center, To Lead Redskin Quint Here

All-Nations Prelim Card Precedes Thursday Tilt

Advance Guard of World Famous Indians, Who'll Tackle Ceramics, Reaches City; Laughlin Teams Battle For Title.

MANAGER O. E. GREENAWALT of the East Liverpool Basketball club, sponsoring the appearance of the World Famous Indians tomorrow night in the public auditorium, has scraped together one of the greatest collection of basketball teams and players of all shapes, sizes, races and colors ever seen on one floor in this city. With three preliminaries preceding the main event, the program shapes up as a real bargain bill to bring down the curtain on independent basketball.

With the Glenmore and Parochial graders in action, the Colored Elks taking on the Wellsville Immigrants, Italian stars, the two Laughlin pottery plant rivals clashing for the industrial championship and the Indians battling the Ceramics and its Jewish-American stars, the outlay sizes up in every respect as a genuine international affair.

And as for the shapes and sizes, there's "Tiny" Hearn, Georgia Tech center last year, all Southern Conference Basketball and football star, to lead the parade.

Hearn, who shoots into the air for a distance of no less than seven standard 12-inch feet, probably has led more parades than he cares to. His immensity stops 'em on the street. His great height dwarfs even Bill Powell, who's some pumpkin himself in perpendicular dimensions.

Over in New Castle, Pa., Hearn, walking along the sidewalk, met a fellow on stilts, advertising some new breakfast food or something and the stilted bird had to stop and speak his admiration for his rival's natural height. And as a result a cordon of police was rushed out on a riot call to untie traffic.

Hearn is so tall and so used to ducking when he enters and leaves buildings he would probably take a bow if he walked under the Arc de Triomphe.

Hearn has half a dozen offers from American Professional league basketball teams.

According to Chick Skelly, manager of the Indians, Lou Sugarman, of Trenton, interceding for the Fort Wayne Hoosiers, will be in East Liverpool tomorrow night to try to get Skelly's name and Hearn's, as well, on a bill of sale for the big center. Sugarman has been after Skelly for some time but the latter believes that it will be worth no less than five grand to part with the services of the giant. Sugarman notified Skelly several days ago that he would be here to continue negotiations.

High Sky, six feet, five inches, and Light Foot, six feet, two inches, regular forwards on the Redskin combine, look small when they step out with Hearn but their playing ability is unquestioned.

High Sky does things with the basketball like Joe Lapchick, of the Cleveland Rosenblums, grabbing it in one hand and executing other trick maneuvers. He is regarded as one of the greatest of all exhibition players.

Light Foot is dubbed the Indian shik. He bears a marked resemblance to the late Rudolph Valentino even though he shys at the comparison. He is extremely fast on the basketball floor.

However, the preliminaries won't be the least of the program. Here's the way it shapes up:

6:30—Glenmore vs. Parochial school five.

7:15—Colored Elks vs. Wellsville Immigrants.

8:00—Laughlin 6-7 vs. Laughlin 4-5 for industrial championship.

9:00—East Liverpool Ceramics vs. World Famous Indians.

AT READING, Pa.—Joe Kuhns, Reading, outpointed Eddie Dempsey, Philadelphia (8).

Acquisition of Hornsby Peps up Chicagoans; Prospects Depend Upon Pitchers.

BY HARRY NEILY.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 20.—Nothing short of the National League championship will satisfy Cub officials this season. When two or more shareholders are gathered together they lift the voice in praise of the prospects of Manager Joe McCarthy's troupe. The idea seems to prevail that all the Cubs have to do is step out and shake the pennant bush and nature will provide.

Much of this is based upon the acquisition of Rogers Hornsby. His prowess does not call for comment. He has fit into the Cub plan of things smoothly. There has been no visible display of the mental attitude said to have made him undesirable in St. Louis and New York.

Aside from Hornsby, Cub prospects hinge upon the pitchers. If Mike Cuyler, the most travelled left hander in baseball, finally has "arrived," the Cubs' chances of getting into the autumn classic are improved. Some energetic young men bearing large minor league batting averages are on hand, but one can pick the starting lineup now and as follows:
English, short stop; Beck, third base; Cuyler, right field; Hornsby, second base; Wilson, center field; Stephenson, left field; Grimm, first base; Hartnett or Gonzalez, catcher.
Pitchers: Root, had tonsils removed, fifteen pounds lighter than last year, when he was not a winner; Carlson, recovered of attack of flu which made him ineffective last season; Blake, going along as usual, the class of the staff; Malone, reformed careless boy, working hard. He won 18 games in 1928, leading the hurlers; Bush, same as heretofore.

DAMASCUS WINS AT SALINEVILLE

SALINEVILLE, O., Mar. 20.—Flashing a brilliant offensive which they maintained throughout the game, Damascus Quakers, former Columbiana County Amateur league champions, defeated Salineville Independents here last night, 40 to 24, in the final game of the five-game series between the two clubs.

The conquest gave the Quakers three out of the five games. Grice led the Damascus attack with 16 points. Raffle's 12 topped the Salineville scoring.

Welter Punchers Matched

Rudy-Welch Scrap at Valley A. C. to be Closed Today.

MATCHMAKER RAY FOUTTS, of the Valley A. C., Wellsville, expected today to complete negotiations for the proposed eight-round battle between Young Rudy of Pittsburgh and Teddy Welch of McKeesport to feature the Valley A. C. fight program next Tuesday night in the Wellsville city hall auditorium.

Foutts originally had planned to rematch Rudy and Keppen following their great scrap in Wellsville a couple of weeks ago, but Keppen informed Foutts that he has hung up his gloves.

Keppen, explaining that he had saved some money from the fight game and that he had no desire to continue in the racket until he became goofy, declared that no one could entice him back.

As a result Foutts went after Welch, but a little financial hitch arose there.

It seems that Rudy will fight almost any welter in the district for a decent purse—that is, anybody but Welch. These two have battled before, something like four or five times, and one Pittsburgh writer declared that if they continued at it, both of them would end up in the "mad house."

Rudy wanted more cash for the Welch bout. For anybody else he'd take a reduction. Foutts expected to get it ironed out today. Welch is illing enough and there was no difficulty, as a result, in getting his name on the line.

And for the six-round semi-final, Freddy Edwards, district welterweight champion, is hooked up with Jack McCarthy of Pittsburgh, whom Welch outpointed here last Monday in a hard scuffle. Two preliminaries will round out the card.

Christians Defeated By Lutheran Five

St. Stephens Passers Win From M. E. (a) Quint.

TAKE 1 2 3 4—CHRISTIAN—

Lutherans defeated the Chester Christians, 38-29, and the St. Stephens trimmed the M. E. (A's) 31 to 12, in Sunday school league play-off games last night at the auditorium.

As a result, Lutherans will clash with the Saints for the right to meet the Chester five for the title.

Methodist Protestants won from the Presbyterians, 37-28, in the consolation play-off.

NEW ATHLETIC UNIT PLANNED

Organization of a women's auxiliary to the East Liverpool Athletic association, planned at a session of the members Monday night, will be well under way within the next two weeks.

With the formation of the auxiliary the association expects to boost its membership close to the 1,000 mark before next fall.

The association is also planning to take a "night off" and sit in on the finals of the grade school basketball tournament next Friday night at the auditorium, sponsoring a combined Boosters and Parent-Teacher demonstration. Parents, teachers and boosters interested in the sport and desirous of co-operating are asked to turn out.

Frank McConville, an official of the association, has received an answer to a recent communication to H. R. Townsend, Columbus, commissioner of Ohio high school athletics. McConville was particularly interested in the participation of high school athletes in basketball games following the close of the regular season.

Townsend recently came out with an announcement that no team could play at the close of the schedule and in his communication to McConville amplified that statement by saying that no individual could play with any other team. In other words no member of the local high school squad could play with any team in, for instance, the coming Tri-State basketball tournament here.

HAMAS AWAITING HIS NINTH LETTER

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 20.—Steve Hamas, Penn State's all-around athletic star, will earn his ninth letter when he competes in the boxing championships late this week. He was awarded his eighth "S" yesterday when the basketball awards were made. Hamas is also one of State's best football players.

Near End Of Grade Tourney

Rival Cagers Clash in Semi-finals Tonight.

SIX grade school basketball teams, survivors of a tournament which was launched a couple of weeks ago with 24 entries, today were on edge for the semi-finals and the final events leading to the establishment of city champions in seventh and eighth grade divisions.

Tonight four teams will go into action on the public auditorium court in the semi-finals. The survivors meet in the finals Friday night.

In the seventh grade division, Sixth Street meets Maplewood tonight at 7:15, followed by McKinley and Central of the eighth grade section.

McKinley Sevens battle the Sixth Street-Maplewood winner and Sixth Street Eights take on the winner of the McKinley-Central scuffle in the finals Friday.

STARTS SPRING GRID WORKOUTS

MIDLAND, Pa., March 19.—Spring is here! At least spring football practice has been started at the Lincoln high school here.

The equipment was checked out last night to more than 25 boys by Faculty manager W. A. Wuschinski. Coach W. P. Lomond will begin extensive drills on the Twelfth street park grounds tonight.

Only four letter men have qualified for the early training. Thirteen of the members were second team runners-up last season.

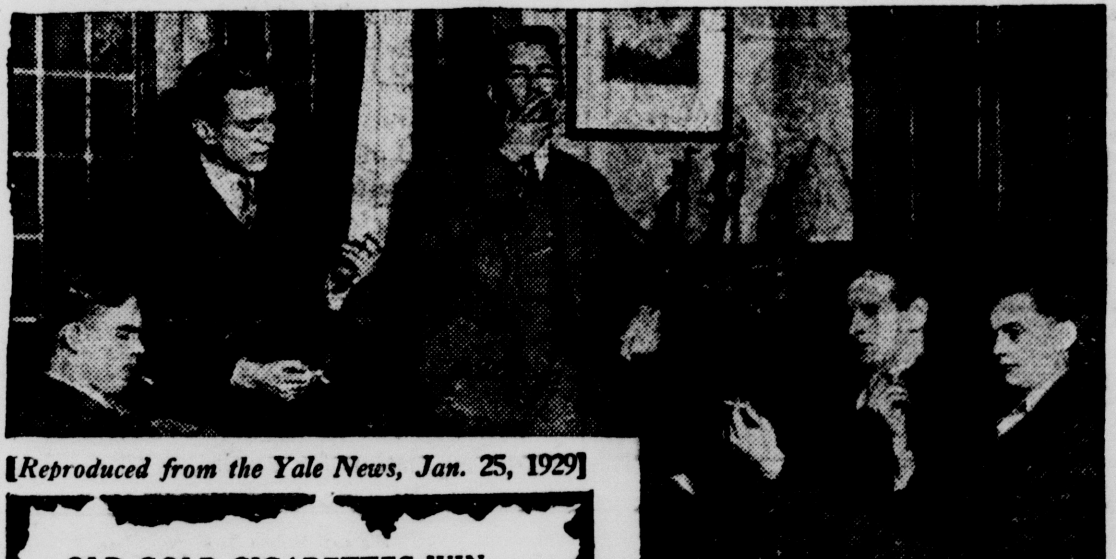

Coach Lomond can't say just yet what kind of material will be matched against the upriver eleven next fall, but feels sure that the squad will uphold last season's record.

NURMI WILL RUN IN PENN RELAYS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 20.—Pauvo Nurmi has consented to compete in the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival here on April 26 and 27, according to Coach Lawson Robertson. The Finnish star will attempt to shatter several distance records.

Robertson revealed that Nurmi has decided to remain in the United States for at least another year, and will obtain a position with an automobile concern.

Yale men decide which is best cigarette...

A group of Yale upper-classmen comparing the four leading cigarette brands.

OLD GOLD CIGARETTES WIN FIRST IN TESTS AT YALE

In the recent cigarette test made at the University, Old Golds were chosen by the students as the best. The cigarettes were masked by black labels so that the names of the brands were concealed. Each label was numbered. This was judged to be the most sporting way of testing the merits of the four leading brands. Some 208 Yale students were asked to smoke the four disguised brands without knowing their identity.

They were merely to choose, by number, the one that was most appealing to the taste.

The News supervised the test on January 18 at various fraternity houses and in the News office.

When the votes were recorded it was discovered that Old Gold (Cigarette No. 3) had won. Old Gold was given 63 first choices, which was 11 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 2, 34 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 1, and 53 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 4.

VANGUARD

A Highly Amusing Story of a Romance
Aboard a Millionaire's Yacht.

By Arnold Bennett

While the Baron and the Count chatted together, Septimus led the way to the rooms where multicolored beverages were served to visitors without any inquiry as to their winnings or losses or their pasts or their moral characters. Lord Furber, from behind, demurred to Mr. Sutherland's plan for taking refreshments, but Septimus came back to him and took him irresistibly by the arm.

"My dear fellow, you must give me my revenge," the Baron had to yield; he did not, however, yield very gracefully; somehow his demeanor gave the impression that Septimus was his master, always had been and forever would be.

Three Parisian beauties having just quitted a table, Mr. Sutherland took the same, called a waiter, in a voice like the snap of a toy-pistol, to clear away the glasses and dry the marble, and himself placed a chair for the occupancy of Harriet.

Count Veruda hesitated.

"Count," said Septimus grandly, "I beg you to allow me to return, in some very slight degree, your glorious hospitality."

The Count bowed, waited for Lord Furber to be seated, and then sat down.

"We will have champagne," Septimus announced.

He did not ask whether champagne chimed with the desires of all or any of his guests—he blandly and firmly stated an intention regarding the immediate future. Mr. Sutherland had evidently decided to go the pace. He had probably never before gone the pace, and was therefore acutely inexperienced in the operation, but he held fast to the great leading principle that you cannot properly and effectively go the pace without consuming champagne—and at 1 o'clock in the morning. He examined the wine list with a tremendous air of connoisseurship, and ordered a magnum of a celebrated and costly brand dated 1914.

"I hear you've cleared in the neighborhood of a couple of million francs," said Count Veruda to Lord Furber.

"Who did yet hear that from?" the Baron somewhat pugnaclously demanded.

"My old friend, the doorkeeper."

"It'll be five millions in London by tomorrow night," said Lord Furber grimly. "Sep, what about a cigar?"

Mr. Sutherland was thunderstruck by this question, which amounted to a terrible demonstration of his shortcomings as a host in a tabernacle of the vices. In two minutes he had a pile of cigar boxes a foot high on the table, together with various sorts of cigarettes suitable to the rouged lips of ladies. The splendid chained waiter poured out into five glasses some of the contents of a titanic, gold-headed bottle.

"And now," said Septimus, when Count Veruda and himself had plentifully quaffed and Lord Furber and Harriet Perkins had slipped, "we will just go into our accounts, my dear Furber."

"Not tonight! Not on your life!" Lord Furber gloomily objected.

"We will go into our accounts," Septimus repeated calmly.

A strange kind of a host—but a host, and therefore not to be contradicted, even by such a Baron as Lord Furber.

"Let me see," he proceeded, drawing a fountain pen from one pocket and a notebook from another. "You found 350,000 francs for me. I gave you 2000 francs afterward. I have ten here." At this point he slipped a token gayly on to the table. "I had 10,247 francs before I started, and of that I now have—" He pulled out of a third pocket a confused mass of small French notes and francs.

"What you've got left hasn't anything to do with me," Lord Furber growled. "You owe me 348,000 francs."

"True," said Mr. Sutherland. "I have that figure clearly in my head. I was merely going to calculate the total of my losses."

And he proceeded to count the money on the table, very carefully; after which he mumbled figures inarticulately between his lips, and wrote in the notebook.

"And now let me see," said he. "The rate of exchange is—"

The Mystery Solved.

Count Veruda named the rate of exchange, and with the gesture of a conjuror Mr. Sutherland drew a check-book from a fourth pocket.

He filled up first a counterfoil and then a cheque, "Under 3000 pounds," and waved the cheque like a flag in the air to dry the ink and handed the cheque to Lord Furber.

"Take charge of this, will you, Veruda," said Lord Furber, indolently and disdainfully. And the Count took charge.

"Well," said Mr. Sutherland, having pocketed money, notebook and pen, emptied his glass, and refilled it. "I never signed a cheque with greater satisfaction. And I'm quite sure that I never got better value for my money."

He poured more champagne into the glass of Miss Harriet Perkins. She protested. He ignored the protest. "I suppose you can solve the mystery, Count," Harriet ventured.

"What mystery, dear lady?" The Count smiled enigmatically.

"Why Mr. Sutherland is so riotous at losing, and His Lordship so tragic at winning?"

The Count kept silence.

"Harriet," said Lord Furber suddenly, and as it were menacingly, "Ye were late tonight. Ye said ye'd be here at 11."

"I was a little late," Harriet admitted, uneasily. In spite of herself, the man had noted the hour of her arrival after all!

"What were ye doing?"

"Oh!" she answered shortly. "I had one or two little affairs of my own to attend to."

"What's the matter with ye?" the Baron inquired pertinaciously.

"What d'you mean—what's the matter with me? Nothing's the matter with me."

"Well, I don't know," said the Baron. "Ye look as if ye've paid a visit to paradise and come back to tell us about it."

"That's a very good description," said Mr. Sutherland. "She does." The simpleton was under the delusion that the enchantress was finding joy in his joy.

"Perhaps I have," said Harriet, as enigmatically as Count Veruda himself could have spoken. "But all this is no answer to my perfectly serious question."

Mr. Sutherland was biting the end of a cigar. He finished the amputation quickly in order to reply to the enchantress. This was a Mr. Sutherland whom nobody on earth had ever seen before—a Septimus careless, indiscreet and unprecedentedly communicative; a Septimus tasting the full savour of life.

"I'll tell you," said he. "Somehow or other when we came into the club, Lord Furber and I settled on a strange wager—a wager such as has probably never until tonight been made in these rooms. He said that if you tried to lose it would be just as difficult to lose as to win. I said no. We laid a bet—who would lose the most. And the one who lost the most was to have Lallars. You know how set he's been on getting Lallars from me. I thought I might as well give him a chance. Well, he hasn't got Lallars. I keep it—definitely."

"Um!" murmured Lord Furber, musingly.

Count Veruda glanced away, and shared the joke with the rings of a curtain-pole near the ceiling.

As for Harriet, she could not decide whether she was glad or sorry.

Later in the night Mr. Sutherland was escorting Miss Harriet Perkins back to the yacht. Lord Furber, who had gone off with Count Veruda, had confided Harriet to Mr. Sutherland's efficient care. The Baron's final glance at Harriet had been quizzical.

Now the way, and the only way, from the club toward the yacht was to turn to the right immediately on coming out of the club. But Mr. Sutherland and his charge had turned to the left, up the incline, and somehow they had reached the terrace in front of the Casino, whose windows were now all dark. Mr. Sutherland had suggested that, as the spring night was warm (it was not), and as after the carbonic-acid gas of the stuffy rooms their lungs needed the air of heaven, they should enjoy a little stroll. Harriet could not deny him. It was Mr. Sutherland's hour, and she felt toward him as she had felt in the Vanguard's engine room on the evening of the banquet; namely, that as she could give pleasure to the innocent and rather wistful man at no inconvenience to herself, she might as well increase the sum of human happiness by so doing.

ANNE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE
DEAR ANNE LAURIE:
I am very disappointed in a boy friend with whom I have been going for some time. I think very much of him and would like to have him come back. I am very quick spoken and I probably have hurt his feelings, but he has never said so. He came to see me one day and brought me some very lovely and valuable presents. Since that day he has never returned.
Should I return them or keep them as long as he doesn't say what's the matter? When I meet him anywhere he treats me like an enemy. My folks were acquainted with him and I like him very much. UNLUCKY GIRL.

UNLUCKY GIRL: If you have done anything to hurt the young man's feelings, then it is your obligation to apologize, my dear. Ask him frankly what is the matter and then proffer your apology. If he does not accept it, then by all means return the gifts. In the first place, as you were not engaged to him, you should not have accepted a gift which is of any great value. It is decidedly bad form.

DEAR ANNE LAURIE:
We are chums in our teens and are both interested in the same problem.
One of us has been going with a nice boy for about five months. A few weeks ago she went out with another boy. Now the boy friend, first mentioned, happened to be in the same place, and, of course, saw this girl with the other boy, and now when he meets this girl he never speaks and seems rather heart broken over it.
Now our question is, Anne Laurie,
how can she win back the friendship of her first boy friend as she loves him best. DOT AND DASH.

DEAR ANNE LAURIE:
Really, the young man has no cause to act in such a manner. The girl is not engaged to him, therefore, it is her privilege to have as many friends as she wants,
and go out with whom she pleases.
If he acts so foolishly over such a trifling thing, she is better off without his friendship.

DEAR ANNE LAURIE:
I am a girl in my teens and this Summer I saw a boy I like very much. I do not know him to speak to, but when he goes past he smiles and says "hello." Tell me should I smile and speak to him or not? Please advise me.

BROWN EYES: Certainly not.
I am a girl of eighteen, and have been going with a boy for three years.
He goes away sometimes. Should I go with other fellows while he is away? He is very good to me and doesn't go with any other girls but me. MARY S.

MARY S: If you are engaged, then you should not go around with others while your fiancé is away. If you are not engaged, he has no right to exact such a promise from you.

Two Given Jail Terms In Chicken Thefts

Melvin Logston, Lawrenceville, and Casey Jones, Newell Convicted at New Cumberland.

CHESTER, W. Va., Mar. 20.—Melvin Logston, of Lawrenceville, and Casey Jones, near Newell were each sentenced to eight months in the county jail yesterday by Judge J. Harold Brennan at New Cumberland, following their conviction on a charge of chicken stealing.

Miss Alva Shroades, Chester, who was indicted with the men, was discharged, while the case against Raymond Talbott, who turned state's evidence, was continued until the June term of court.

The men were charged with the theft of chickens from the premises of Charles and James Stewart, near Congo.

Four Weirton men, charged with violating the liquor laws were fined $100 each and given from 20 to 90 days in jail.

HIGHWAY BONDS SOLD BY STATE

Group of eight corporations submitted the successful bid yesterday at Charleston for $5,000,000 in four and one-half percent West Virginia road bonds. The bid offered a premium of $35,999.50, bringing the interest rate on the bonds to approximately 4.45 percent.

Members of the group were the Bankers company of New York; Guaranty company of New York; E. H. Rollin & Sons; the Detroit company; Old Colony Corporation; Hannaford Ballin & Lee; First Minneapolis Trust company and the Kanawha Banking & Trust company.

Seven bids were submitted by various groups for the bonds which were a part of the $20,000,000 in 4 1/2 percent bonds which the 1929 session of the legislature authorized for sale under a $35,000,000 road bond amendment adopted at the last general election.
